Part 3. Directions:

You will hear some conversations between two or more people. You will be asked to answer three questions about what the speakers say in each conversation. Select the best response to each question and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet. The conversations will not be printed in your test book and will be spoken only one time.

Questions 32 through 34 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: Excuse me, do you have this shirt in any other sizes? I'm looking for a medium in blue and I don't see it here.

Man: Let me check our stock on the computer. No, we don't have that color, but we do have that same shirt in gray or white, and both of those are available in a medium. Would you like me to get one of them for you?

Man 2: Um, yes, I think I'll try the gray one. That should be formal enough to wear to the employee appreciation dinner at work.

Questions 35 through 37 refer to the following conversation.

Man: Maria, it's time we decided on the location for our new flower shop.

Woman: Hmm, I liked that building on Broad Street, and the owner seemed eager to sell. We'd probably get it for a good price.

Man: But that location doesn't have a parking lot. That'd be inconvenient for our customers.

Woman: Well, there's a concert hall next door with a good-sized parking lot. Maybe we can make a shared parking arrangement with them, since we'll be open at different times. And in exchange, we could provide floral arrangements to them. I'll give them a call.

Questions 38 through 40 refer to the following conversation with three speakers.

Man: Ji-min and Rosa, I wanted to ask you about something. Did either of you process an order for paint samples for a customer named Ms. Reyes recently?

Woman 1: I didn't.

Woman 2: Sorry, neither did I.

Man: She just called. She said she made a request for the samples last week on our website.

Woman 1: I know sometimes the online requests take a few days to come through.

Man: Yes, that does happen sometimes.

Man: Oh, that might explain it. Rosa, can you talk to someone in technical support to see if they can speed up the process?

Questions 41 through 43 refer to the following conversation.

Man: Satoshi, let's start making plans for next month's employee appreciation party.

Woman: Good idea. I think we should get gift cards for everyone.

Woman: Yes, we could give away gift certificates to local businesses like movie theaters and bookstores.

Man: We also need to get a cake. Would you like me to take care of that?

Woman: Well, there's a bakery right next to my apartment.

Man: Oh, okay. Then I'll purchase the gift cards for our co-workers.

Questions 44 through 46 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: Hi, Alonzo. I saw a news report this morning about bridge construction on the highway. Isn't that on your daily commute?

Man: Yes, there've been some major backups this past week. I've started leaving for work earlier in the morning to avoid the traffic.

Woman: Do you know when they're planning to finish?

Man: They say it's going to be done by next month. In the meantime, I think I'll have to find another route to the office.

Woman: You could also work at home a few days a week. The company recently started offering us that option.

Questions 47 through 49 refer to the following conversation.

Hello: Julie speaking.

Man: Hi, it's Paul from work. Sorry to bother you on your day off. I've been revising the work schedule a bit this morning because Yvon isn't feeling well. Could you possibly take her place today?

Woman: Sure. What time do I need to come in?

Man: She was scheduled to guide visitors through the city's historic arts district today at 11.

Woman: Okay, I can be there at 10:45.

Man: Great. Thanks so much. I'll pay you the overtime rate since it was unscheduled.

Questions 50 through 52 refer to the following conversation.

Man: Hello, you've reached the Allerton. How can I help you?

Woman: My name's Anna Lee. I was a guest there last week and there seems to be a problem with my bill. I was charged for three nights, but I only stayed for two.

Man: Okay, let me pull up our records. When did you check in?

Woman: On October 28th.

Man: Ah, I see. But you checked out late on the 30th. It's our policy to charge an extra night for checkouts after 2:00 PM.

Woman: Well, I was unaware of this policy. Can your supervisor help me with this?

Man: Sure, let me go ask her.

Questions 53 through 55 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: Hello, I'm wondering if your store sells video gaming equipment. I'm looking for a headset that would allow me to have a virtual reality experience.

Man: Absolutely. They're at the back of the store with our other tech devices. We have several models. Are you looking for something in particular?

Woman: Well, I'd like one that doesn't require cables. I don't want to have to connect it to the game console with wires.

Man: Then I'd recommend the B-67 headset. It's a standalone model. It's currently marked down because the company is releasing a new model next month.

Woman: Excellent. I'll buy that one.

Questions 56 through 58 refer to the following conversation with three speakers.

Man: Hi, Marisol. Do you have a minute? Omar and I have been thinking about last week's town council meeting.

Woman: You mean the meeting about attracting more visitors to our town?

Man: Yes, many local businesses here, like the bed and breakfast inn, have been operating for a long time.

Man: We thought we could produce several short documentaries for the town's website to give a peek inside these businesses. Each film would feature interviews and footage of the owner at work.

Woman: Interesting, but I'm worried that we'd need special filmmaking skills for that.

Man: My friend has experience making films. I already talked to her, and she's willing to help us out.

Questions 59 through 61 refer to the following conversation.

Man: Karima, do you have a minute to read the press release I wrote for one of our products?

Woman: Sure, which product is it for?

Man: The latest refrigerator model we're introducing. I tried to highlight how it received the highest ranking for energy efficiency of all refrigerators on the market.

Woman: Okay, I'll take a look. By the way, what do you think about adding an intern to our staff this summer?

Man: Great idea, but we'll have to meet with human resources to get that expense approved. How does Tuesday sound?

Woman: Actually, I'm leaving for a business trip on Monday.

Questions 62 through 64 refer to the following conversation and sign.

Woman: All right, we've almost arrived at the airport. Can you remind me what the email from Mr. Petrov says about where to park the company car?

Man: Sure, let's see. Um... Here it is. We're supposed to park in the south lot. That's where Susan will pick the car up when she gets back from her business trip to Chicago.

Woman: Okay. Oh, and he gave me a coupon for a 25% discount on parking.

Man: Great, but could you drop me off at the departure entrance first? It'll be easier to check the suitcase with our product samples while you park the car.

Woman: Of course.

Questions 65 through 67 refer to the following conversation and catalog page.

Man: Messina's Tiling Company.

Woman: Hello, I'm planning to re-tile the kitchen floor in my house, and I'd like to hire a professional contractor to do the work.

Man: Sure. Have you chosen the tiles yet?

Woman: Yes, I looked at some patterns in your catalog. I really like the one with circles. That circular pattern will look great in my kitchen.

Man: That's a new pattern, and it's very popular. So, in order to give you an estimate, I'll need to take measurements of your kitchen. I'm available on Wednesday.

Woman: I have a doctor's appointment that day. How about Thursday?

Questions 68 through 70 refer to the following conversation and web page.

Woman: Hi, Mohammed. I wonder if you can help me. Have you bought art supplies from this website before?

Man: Sure, I ordered paint brushes from them for the landscape painting class I'm teaching.

Woman: Great. I need to get sketch pads for my students, and I thought I put in all my information, but it won't let me move to the next step.

Man: Let me see. It's showing that you forgot to enter your credit card expiration date. See?

Woman: Oh, of course. Thanks.

Man: How are your registration numbers looking for the drawing class?

Woman: They've extended the sign-up deadline by another week to see if there's more interest.

Part 4. Directions:

You will hear some talks given by a single speaker. You will be asked to answer three questions about what the speaker says in each talk. Select the best response to each question and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet. The talks will not be printed in your test book and will be spoken only one time.

Questions 71 through 73 refer to the following announcement.

Man: Attention, Morrison Bookstore customers. Today's reading featuring author Hiroko Nakamura will begin in 15 minutes. Don't miss this opportunity to hear Ms. Nakamura read from her latest novel. After the reading, she's agreed to sign copies of the book. We advise you to purchase your copy in advance to make the book signing move faster. Copies can be found at the front desk. Finally, did you know that you can submit proposals for future events? It's easy to do on our website.

Questions 74 through 76 refer to the following talk.

Woman: Welcome to Sweet Spice Dining. I'm head chef Adriana Diaz. I'm excited to see that so many people registered for our healthy cooking series. For our first class, I'll be showing you how to make three delicious, low-calorie appetizers. The ingredients are already at your workstations, and in just a moment, I'll pass out a manual with the recipes we'll be making during the course. At the start of each session, I'll demonstrate the techniques we'll be using that day. I encourage you to take notes at that time, since many of the tips I give aren't printed in your manual.

Questions 77 through 79 refer to the following excerpt from a meeting.

Woman: Okay, so let's start with a project overview. Management wants to determine the best way to meet our customers' residential energy needs. To that end, they've requested that we complete an electricity usage analysis within two weeks. Now, as you know, our team is small, so everyone needs to make this their priority. To keep us on track, each day I'll be sending out an email that details our progress towards completing the work.

Questions 80 through 82 refer to the following telephone message.

Man: Hi, this is Yuri from FGH Transport. Thank you again for applying to our company. Good news: we'd like to offer you the position. Since you said in your interview that you're available right away, I have a driving assignment for you tomorrow. A company has requested that we provide transportation to take employees to and from a meeting in the city center. They'll need to be picked up at 7:00 and brought back at 3:00. Don't forget to sign your contract and payment forms tomorrow morning when you come in. Thanks.

Questions 83 through 85 refer to the following introduction.

Woman: Attention everyone. It's time to present our annual award for the most promising local artist. In addition to receiving a cash prize, the winning artist will have several pieces of artwork displayed right here in the museum's main exhibit hall. Often the biggest challenge for emerging artists is getting audience exposure. Well, here at our museum, we get thousands of visitors every week. Here to announce the award winner is Richard Baxter, who has generously donated the prize money for the award. Mr. Baxter, can you please come up?

Questions 86 through 88 refer to the following excerpt from a meeting.

Man: To end the meeting, I want to let you know about some updates to the company's internal website. There will be several new features added, including a resource tab with useful links. This will allow us to make files and videos easily available to all staff. If you're interested in seeing a demonstration of this new feature, get in touch with Mario from IT. Also, please make sure to leave your laptops on before leaving the office on Monday. The tech team will be installing the new software overnight.

Questions 89 through 91 refer to the following tour information.

Woman: Welcome to Bellfair Castle. I'm Nicola, your tour guide. We're currently standing in the castle gardens. The village of Bellfair is just through the trees. If you have time after the tour, I'd recommend going to see the village. Now, a couple of you have asked me whether we'll be seeing the entire castle on today's tour. Actually, a family lives in one section of the building. Okay, let's enter the Great Hall, the oldest part of the castle, dating back to the Middle Ages. Bellfair Castle's been so well preserved for its age that it's become a popular filming location.

Questions 92 through 94 refer to the following broadcast.

Man: In business news, local car manufacturer Yamada Motors announced that it has chosen Abdullah Osman to take over as CEO. Mr. Osman brings over 20 years of leadership experience to this role. In announcing their selection, Yamada Motors highlighted Mr. Osman's history of helping companies expand into international markets. Many of our local residents are excited about Yamada Motors' decision, because this move is expected to lead to new jobs in the area as the company grows. After a short commercial break, Mr. Osman will join us to speak about his new role.

Questions 95 through 97 refer to the following telephone message and rental options.

Woman: Hi, Vladimir. I'm calling about the trade show in Greensboro next month. I've figured out what we'll need to bring for our exhibit, so I want to let you know what vehicle to reserve for us. Although our display won't be as large as it was last year, we still have lots of supplies and decorations to bring, so please rent a van. While you're taking care of that, I'll request more business cards for both of us to hand out at the event.

Questions 98 through 100 refer to the following broadcast and table.

Man: You're listening to the weekly business report on Radio XYG. Wilkerson Research, a leading organization in the field of product testing, recently rated the best lawn mowers on the market. They tested various brands, looking at noise level, ease of use, and durability. Now, it's interesting to note that the highest priced products aren't always the best. In this case, the most expensive mower on Wilkerson's list received only three stars. For their complete findings, Wilkerson just released a new book, which can be found at most major bookstores.
